DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-8 are directed to a plasma display panel (PDP) and a method of driving the PDP, said PDP comprising a plurality of row and column electrodes which are directly crossed with one another between two substrates which are combined in parallel, classified in class 313, subclass 585.
 - II. Claims 9-20 and 73-76 are directed to a PDP comprising row electrodes on a first substrate and column electrodes on a second substrate with spacing provided between said substrates, classified in class 313, subclass 585.
 - III. Claims 21-46, 60-72 and 77-80 are directed to a PDP and a method of driving the PDP, said PDP comprising a plurality of row electrodes on a first substrate and a plurality of column electrodes on a second substrate with cells formed between said substrates, classified in class 313, subclass 585.
 - IV. Claims 47-59 and 81-84 are directed to a PDP comprising row electrodes on a first substrate and column electrodes on a second substrate with a phosphor layer formed over the second substrate and barrier ribs formed between said substrates, classified in class 313, subclass 585.
2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I, II, III and IV are directed to related products. The related inventions are distinct if the (1) the inventions as claimed are either not capable of use together or can have a materially different design, mode of operation, function, or effect; (2) the inventions do not overlap in scope, i.e., are mutually exclusive; and (3) the inventions as claimed are not obvious variants. See MPEP § 806.05(j).

In the instant case, the inventions as claimed are distinct because each of the inventions has a different and unique structure that is mutually exclusive. For example, in the invention of Group I, the row and column electrodes, which are directly crossed with one another between two substrates, are not on the substrate as in the invention of Group II. Further, in the invention of Group II, spacing is provided between the substrates, which is not the case in invention of Group I. Similar differences exists between each of the inventions grouped above. The features that are unique to each invention is underlined in the above paragraphs. Furthermore, the inventions as claimed do not encompass overlapping subject matter and there is nothing of record to show them to be obvious variants.

3. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art due to their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

4. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

5. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Remarks

6. This application is objected to under 37 CFR 1.172(a) as lacking the written consent of all assignees owning an undivided interest in the patent. The consent of the assignee must be in compliance with 37 CFR 1.172. See MPEP § 1410.01.

A proper assent of the assignee in compliance with 37 CFR 1.172 and 3.73 is required in reply to this Office action.
